

Hive

Collective Genius

Hive is an informal learning network that empowers your employees to share knowledge, expertise and ideas to transform your organization into a highly connected and smart work environment. It will transform how knowledge and expertise is shared within your organization.

Best of both worlds

Collate

Hive aggregates top-rated content, from the web, in topics that matter to you most.

Create

Everyone in your organization is good at something. Everyone can create learning content (video, PPT, XLS, DOC, PDF) or upload existing one.

Collaborate

Web's top-rated content may not be the most relevant content for your organization. Some of the internally generated content may also be sub-par.

Your employees enhance all the content, external and internal, by liking, disliking, following, sharing, commenting, tagging, linking, adding supporting materials, external references etc. to tell us the top content for your business. Best content rises to the top, while the rest settles to the bottom.

Consume

Everyone could use a better, quicker, cheaper way of doing their job. Everyone can search for and instantly consume any content to make better decisions and help your bottom line.

Hive makes business sense

Best content in one place

Hive is the only platform that gives you all the content, internal and external, in one place.

Higher Productivity

With Hive, employees don't have to sit through classroom training, away from their desks. Instead, employees learn what they want to learn, when they want to learn to continually increase productivity.

Substantial Cost Savings

By enabling and connecting employees having knowledge with employees needing that knowledge, we decrease the need for expensive formal training.

Connected Organization

Hive breaks down knowledge silos and helps employees accelerate performance of the global organization, they were once oblivious to.

Talent Search & Discovery

Hive naturally identifies (undiscovered) key employees and subject matter experts and elevates their social brand and value. This helps distribute knowledge evenly and reduce attrition.

Advanced Analytics & Insights

Custom dashboard offers comprehensive, multi-dimensional measurement of training effectiveness and ROI.
